Author / Creator

Fry, Charles Horace.

Smith, Beryl Edith Chapman, 1916-1996

Abstract Correspondence from Flight Lieutenant Charles Fry who served with the RAF and RAAF during the Second World War, and was a German prisoner of war. The letters were written to his fiancée, Beryl Smith, who was Secretary to John 'Jack' Beasley, Minister for Supply and Shipping, during the war. The collection also contains typewritten copies of letters which Beryl wrote to Charles during the war.

System of arrangement Arranged into 12 series.

Description Digital correspondence

Guides A series and item list is available.

Administrative / Biographical history Charles Fry joined the RAAF in June 1936 and was trained as a pilot. He was seconded to the RAF in 1937 and served as a fighter pilot during World War II, being stationed in Egypt from May 1939. He served in the Battles of Greece and Crete, fighting both the Italian and German foes. He became a prisoner of war in Germany in 1941. He was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross medal by both the British and Greek governments. After the war he returned to Australia and married Beryl. In 1946 they purchased a farm at Dalby in Queensland where they lived for the rest of their lives. Beryl died in 1996 and Charles in 2010.

Series 7: Correspondence (1941)

Series number 7

Series title Correspondence

Date 1941

Scope and content

This series principally contains letters (copies) which were sent by Beryl Smith to Charles Fry, who after being reported missing in May 1941 was located in prisoner of war transit camp at Gougi, Athens. Later that year Charles Fry was moved to Oflag XXC a camp for officers, in Lubeck, in northern Germany. Beryl begins a long series of letters in which she often repeats news, not knowing whether any or all of them will be received by Charles. Periodically Charles is allowed to send brief postcards to Beryl advising her of his health and well being. Many of the letters took up to three months to reach Australia. It is not known how many letters actually reached Charles while he was interned. [Items 31299/51, 31299/54-60 and 31299/107-115]

Series 8: Correspondence (1942)

Series number 8

Series title Correspondence

Date 1942

Scope and content

Letters in this series are principally written by Beryl Smith to her fiancé Charles Fry a prisoner of war of the Germans. During 1942 Fry was moved from Oflag VI-B southwest of Dossel, to Stalag Luft III, near the town of Sagan (now in Poland). Later that year he was transferred Oflag XXI-B, at Szubin, Poland. Beryl received a number of brief notes from Charles which she has copied perhaps to share with family. Charles kept note of how many and the dates of the letters he has received. ## Series 9: Correspondence (1943)

Series number 9

Series title Correspondence

Date 1943

Scope and content

This series contains letters written by Charles Fry from German prisoner-of-war camps in Poland to his fiancée Beryl Smith. The letters are brief and constantly refer to the delay in receiving them, some up to 8 months old. Beryl was active in sending books to Charles and his fellow prisoners to pass the time, and photographs of his family to remind him of home. From September 1942 - April 1943 Charles Fry was interned at Oflag XXIB, located at Szubin, then in April 1943 he was returned to Stalag Luft III, at Sagan (now in Poland), south-east of Berlin, where he remained until being liberated in May 1945. ## Series 11: Correspondence (1945-1950)

Series number 11

Series title Correspondence

Date 1945-1950

Scope and content

This series of letters and telegrams relate the happy news of Charles Fry's release from captivity. After arriving in England, Charles attended an event at Buckingham Palace in June, where he was awarded the Greek Flying Cross by King George VI. It was not until September that Charles was reunited with his family and bride to be Beryl Smith, who by then was secretary to the Minister for Defence, John 'Jack' Beazley. Charles was warmly welcomed when he arrived at

RAAF Bradfield Park Station on the morning of 8 September 1945. [Items 31299/2, 31299/5, 31299/8-16 and 31299/185-198]
