Administrative / Biographical history Jens Hansen Lundager was a Danish-born Australian photographer, newspaper editor and politician. He was considered a master of photography in his era. Born in Vejlbj, Denmark, in 1853, Lundager worked as a potter before establishing a photography business. He emigrated to Sydney, Australia in 1879, aged 25, and worked as a photographer for the New South Wales government before trying his hand at gold mining at Temora. He then moved to Rockhampton and established a photography business. Lundager married Dane Mathilde Helene Bilstoft (1859-1934) in Rockhampton in 1882 and together they had seven children Else Johanna (1883-1953), Mary Christine (1884-1890), Henry Walter (1886-1890), Hulda Hellene (1888-1970), Mary Christina (1893-1966), Alma May (1898-1953) and Dagmar Mathilde (1900-1901). In 1892, Lundager's studio burnt down and he moved to Mount Morgan where he continued his photography business and bought a bookstore to supplement his earnings. He was also heavily involved in the Mount Morgan community. Lundager moved to Sydney in 1919 and died there aged 76 in 1930. (Information taken from: Danes in Australia, Art and Photography and Wikipedia websites, viewed 4 September 2024). Four of Jens and Mathilde's daughters feature in this collection. Else Johanne Lundager (1883-1953) stayed with her parents studying dress making in Mount Morgan and working in the retail industry in this area in Sydney. Else never married. Hulda Helena Lundager (1888-1945) worked as a piano teacher in Mount Morgan before studying to become a general nurse at the Ipswich General Hospital, on East Street, in the early 1920s. Hulda later moved to Sydney, N.S.W. where she lived with her sister Else and parents. She completed further training at the Royal North Shore Hospital, North Sydney, to specialise as a midwife and began working in this field in Sydney in 1926. Hulda enjoyed a long career as a nurse working until 1945 and never married. Mary Christina Lundager (1893-1966) trained to be a public-school teacher at Red Hill State School, Mount Morgan, from 1909-1913, before working as a teacher in a number of locations throughout Queensland. In 1927 she resigned from teaching to marry John Hamilton Craies the following year. John Hamilton Craies (1894-1979) served in the Military Cadet Corps and the [Australian] Garrison Artillery in Townsville. John enlisted in the Australian Imperial Force (A.I.F.) age 20 in Alderley, Brisbane in 1914. He was part of the 25th Battalion where he served at locations such as the Gallipoli Peninsula, Alexandria, Somalia and Zeitoun, at times within the 22nd Howitzer Brigade, and the 105th Battery of the 25th Battalion. He was then transferred to France to serve in the 5th Field Artillery Brigade (F.A.B). He returned to Australia in 1919. John worked as a bank officer in many locations and was part of the Citizen Military Forces (C.M.F.) during World War 2. Mary and John Craies had a daughter Helene Alma Craies (1928-2018). Helene married Gordon Douglas Hughes (1928-). The West family were related to Gordon through his mother. Alma May Lundager (1898-1953) trained to be a public-school teacher at Red Hill State School, Mount Morgan, from 1916-1919, before working as a teacher in a number of locations throughout Queensland. Alma enjoyed an overseas holiday to Europe from March 1937 until 28 September 1937 and a trip around the edges of Victoria around 1949. She never married.

Biographical history

Jens Hansen Lundager was a Danish-born Australian photographer, newspaper editor and politician. He was considered a master of photography in his era. Born in Vejlbj, Denmark, in 1853, Lundager worked as a potter before contracting tuberculosis. This forced him to find less physically demanding work which led him to establish a photography business under his own name. However, his illness still troubled him leading him to emigrate to Sydney, Australia in 1879, aged 25. Lundager worked as a photographer for the New South Wales government before trying his hand at gold mining at Temora. He then moved to Rockhampton, Queensland, where he took over the studio of photographer Louis Buderus in East Street and established a photography business. The Mount Morgan Gold Mining Company commissioned Lundager to take photographs of Mount Morgan mines, company owners and their families (some in domestic settings) as well as company guests and workers. Lundager married in 1882 and by about 1884 he was making frequent trips to Mount Morgan. In 1885, the Queensland Government commissioned him to create a photographic album for the Indian and Colonial Exhibition. In 1892, Lundager's studio burnt down and he moved to Mount Morgan. Lundager continued his photography business and bought a bookstore to supplement his earnings. Although most of Lundager's work as a photographer in Mount Morgan stemmed from the Mount Morgan Gold Mining Company, he also took photographs of the town, as well as local scenery, activities and events. Lundager owned and edited the local newspaper the 'Mount Morgan Argus' for many years. He was also heavily committed to the Mount Morgan community serving on the Mount Morgan Town Council (twice as mayor) and was involved with the Mount Morgan Masonic Lodge, the Mount Morgan School of Arts, the Mount Morgan Technical College, the Mount Morgan Progress Association, the Mount Morgan Hospital Committee, the Mount Morgan Boys' School Committee, the Mount Morgan Girls' School Committee, the Penny Savings Bank, the Gordon Club, the Mount Morgan Licensing Bench, the Workers' Political Organisation and the Australian Workers' Association. In 1913, the tuberculosis Lundager struggled with in his earlier years returned forcing him to wind back his business and community interests and move to Sydney in 1919. Jens Lundager died in Sydney in 1930, aged 76. (Information taken from: Danes in Australia, Art and Photography and Wikipedia websites, viewed 4 September 2024).

Biographical history

Hulda Helena Lundager was born in Mount Morgan in 1888. She remained mainly at the family home in Dee Street, Mount Morgan, until 1915, and was in Townsville in 1912 and 1914. Hulda worked from Dee Street as a piano teacher in 1914 aged 26. In 1919, Hulda's parents, Jens and Mathilda Lundager, moved to Gordon, a suburb of Sydney. This same year, or earlier, Hulda moved to Boonah. She was studying to become a general nurse at the Ipswich General Hospital, on East Street, in 1921, and was registered as a general nurse in the Brisbane district in 1923. Hulda later moved to Sydney, N.S.W. and lived with sister Else and parents in Gordon, Sydney. She completed further training at the Royal North Shore Hospital, North Sydney, to specialise as a mid-wife and began working in this field in Sydney in 1926. Following the death of her parents in 1934, Hulda and her sister Else moved to 38 Redan Street, Mosman, Sydney. Hulda survived a serious tourist coach accident near Gordonvale, Cairns, Far North Queensland, in 1939. Hulda enjoyed a long career as a nurse working until 1945 and never married. Following the deaths of her sisters Else and Alma in 1953, Hulda moved to Brisbane to be closer to her remaining sister Mary. She resided in her late sister Alma's old home located at 59 Lyon Street, Moorooka. She later joined Mary at her East Ipswich home until Mary's death in 1966. Hulda died in Sydney in 1970 aged 82.

Biographical history

Mary Christina Lundager was born in Mount Morgan in 1893, one of 5 sisters. She remained at the family home in Dee Street, Mount Morgan, while training to be a public-school teacher at Red Hill State School, Mount Morgan, from 1909-1913. She continued as a teacher at Red Hill State School until 1917 when she was transferred to Goombungee State School, Toowoomba Region. From there she was transferred to Glenvale State School, Toowoomba Region, in 1918, then to Wellington Point State School, Redlands, in 1919. In 1922, she was transferred to Wynnum West State School, Brisbane, then later that year to Ashgrove State School, Brisbane. Mary was teaching in Townsville in 1925. In 1926, she was transferred from Mackay Girls and Infants State School to Sherwood State School. In 1927 she resigned from teaching to marry John Hamilton Craies in 1928. Mary died in East Ipswich in 1966.

John Hamilton Craies was born in Townsville in 1894. He served in the Military Cadet Corps and the [Australian] Garrison Artillery in Townsville. John enlisted in the Australian Imperial Force (A.I.F.) age 20 in Alderley, Brisbane in 1914. He embarked Brisbane on the H.M.A.S. transport 'Aeneas' travelling via Sydney to the war. He was part of the 25th Battalion and served at locations such as the Gallipoli Peninsula, Alexandria, Somalia and Zeitoun, at times within the 22nd Howitzer Brigade, and the 105th Battery of the 25th Battalion. He was then transferred to France and the 5th Field Artillery Brigade (F.A.B). He took leave to the United Kingdom in October/November 1917 and October/November 1918. He returned to Australia on the H.T. 'Rio Negro' in 1919. John worked as a bank officer in many locations and was part of the Citizen Military Forces (C.M.F.) during World War 2. He resided in Ipswich from 1954 until his death in 1979.

Mary and John Craies had a daughter Helene Alma Craies (1928-2018). Helene married Gordon Douglas Hughes (1928-). The West family were related to Gordon through his mother.

John Hamilton Craise First World War album (1916-1919?)

Unit ID 34458/12

Date 1916-1919?

Scope and content

This item contains an album associated with John Craies and his World War 1 service:

- postcard of two women and a man standing by parcels destined for soldiers serving overseas, with the caption 'Lest we forget...the first lot of 1918 Xmas parcels at 'Nyrambla', Ascot ready for the post. With thanks for your help. Best Christmas wishes from Joseph Botten.'
- many individual soldier portraits as well as group portraits. Some have captions containing details such as dates, locations, names. Portraits include those of members of the 5th Field Artillery Brigade (F.A.B.) John Craise, Arthur Verner Barwood (SERN 8763) and Leslie Clarence Hobson (SER8899). Some soldiers were unidentifiable, others identified themselves as 'Jack the Ripper' or 'The Storeman'. Some of the portraits were taken in France.
- postcard of a small boy in military uniform saluting with the caption 'Queensland mascot Pat Vidgen'.
- postcards of various warships.
- soldiers at the infantry camp at Alderley, Brisbane in various activities such as at camp, training and on parade on Empire Day, 24 May.
- correspondence to John Craies.

The postcards are in black and white, with some hand coloured. They were probably taken by commercial photographers. For some, the commercial photographer has been identified. This album was probably compiled by John Hamilton Craies, husband of Mary Lundager.

John Craies postcard album (1911-1919?)

Unit ID 34458/15

Date 1911-1919?

Scope and content

This item contains an album containing postcards in black and white and colour taken before, during and after the First World War, with locations, but no dates, and only a handful have been used for correspondence:

- postcards of buildings in Belgium before the war, then of damaged buildings in Belgium, from the war, one featuring soldiers.
- postcards of buildings in Germany before the war.
- postcards featuring Allied and German propaganda during the First World War.
- a postcard addressed to John Craies, in Townsville, in 1911, from a correspondent holidaying in Germany.
- postcards of A.I.F. troops embarking at Pinkemba, 28 June 1915. A.I.F. soldier John Craies embarked on this date from Brisbane.
- postcards of A.I.F troops leaving Sydney 7 September 1915. It is likely that John Craies' ship the H.M.A. transport 'Aeneas' stopped here on its path to the First World War.
- postcards of H.M.A. transport 'Aeneas', the ship John Craies travelled on to the First World War.
- postcards of soldiers with Egyptians near the pyramids of Egypt.
- a postcard to John from Ernest Diprose (SERN 3548), bugler, from Abbassiah Camp, Egypt., 16 Dec 1915.
- a postcard from John Craies to his parents from Abbassiah Camp, Egypt, 21 August 1915.
- a postcard to John Craies' mother from Ernie [Ernest Diporse?], 20 February 1917.
- postcards of various war scenes.
- postcards of people, boats and other scenery at the Suez canal.
- postcards with coloured humorous cartoons depicting scenes in a soldier's recreational life.
- people and scenery in Durban, Africa.
- a postcard of 'our ship' the 'Rio Negro' on way home to Australia after the war. The Rio Negro transported John Craies home after the war in 1919.

The album probably belonged to John Craies. Ernest Diprose was from Townsville, embarking from Brisbane on the H.M.A.T Warilda on 5 October 1915. It is likely he knew John Craies. Ernest died during World War 1 in 1918. Another 1-2 postcards contain correspondence and are in German, English and French. One mentions the Y.M.C.A.. and was dated 1919. A few photographs are also included in the album.

Biographical history

Thomas West (1850-1941) farmed in the Coulson district where he helped drive the establishment of the district's Congregational Church and was leader of the district's brass band. He then sold his farming property and moved to Loamside where he took up mining. He later took to dairying and was one of the first in the district to breed high class dairy stock. Thomas married Mary Ann Wardle (1856-1922) and they had a number of children including Ethyl Mary West (1893-1964) and Percy Robert West (SERN 4889). Ethyl went on to marry Albert Douglas Hughes. Thomas West died in their home in 1941. Ethyl and Albert's son Gordon Douglas Hughes (1928-) married Helene Alma Craies.
